

What Kind Of Pet Do You Think I Should Get?

What kind of pet do you think I should get?

A lion, a tiger, or maybe an egret?

My parents said I am sensible and can have whatever I wish.

A hippopotamus, a zebra, or maybe a fish?

What about a giraffe that I can feed from my upstairs bed?

Or would I have to climb up on the roof when it needs to be fed?

Maybe a lion with his great, fluffy mane.

But maybe he would use his sharp teeth and cause us some pain.

Maybe an elephant, but they have such big poop!

A dump truck is what you would need if you had to poop scoop!

Or a polar bear like I saw at the zoo?

Does that mean I would have to live in an igloo?

I just can't decide what I should choose?

Maybe I could get a couple of cute, tiny shrews.

What about a shark that could live in my pool?

But who would feed it and pet it while I am away at school?

My little sister said, "Why don't you get a skunk?"

I told her she wouldn't like it when they let out a smelly funk.
