

The Day the Crayons Quit - Reading Comprehension Questions

Red Crayon's letter

Who is Duncan?

Where is Duncan? How do you know?

What does the word 'overworked' mean? Why does red crayon describe himself this way?

Purple Crayon's letter

Why is purple crayon so angry with Duncan?

What does purple crayon mean by "COMPLETELY LOSE IT"? Why has it been written in capital letters?

Beige Crayon's letter

Can you think of another way of saying... "I'm tired of being called..."?

Name two things beige crayon gets to colour in.

Grey Crayon's letter

Can you think of another suggestion for Duncan to use grey with?

White Crayon's letter

Find a word to describe how white crayon is feeling.

Black Crayon's letter

Why does black crayon think that Duncan is using him unfairly?

Green Crayon's letter

How does green crayon's letter make you feel?

How is it different to the other letters?

Why are the yellow crayon and orange crayon not talking to each other?

Pink Crayon's letter

Why does the author use the word "unused" to describe pink crayon?

Ext:

Can you think of your own questions for the colours we haven't looked at yet?

Which colour did you feel most sorry for and why?