Sam's Chair

Let's practise Sam's Sounds and Tricky Words!

long

Tricky words are words that can't be sounded out. We just have to learn them off by heart!

Tricky Word Fish

Shout out the tricky words on the fish. As they swim past, watch out for tricky word they!

Sam had a chair in her room that had been there for a long time. One day, she sat on it and it broke.

“You are Goldilocks!” laughed Dad. Sam did not find Dad’s joke funny.

“Never mind,” said Dad, “it was getting very small for you anyway. We will get you a new one.”

Sam was delighted when they went to the shop the next day. Dad bought her a brand new chair and a desk to match. She felt very grown up!

a, i and r are a team. They say air.

A stylized illustration of a bedroom. On the left, a white desk holds a computer monitor. In the background, there is a window with yellow curtains and a bed with a blue blanket. The room has purple walls and a pink carpet. A large white card with a pink border is centered in the foreground, displaying the word 'air' in a black, rounded font.

Action

Hold a chair, move it in and out from a desk.

Say 'air,
air, air'.

Write the Letters

Around the apple, up the stalk and down the leaf.

Down the body and tail, dot the head.

Down the robot's body, up and over its arm.

Let's Sing!

(To the tune of 'Humpty Dumpty')

air - air - air - air,
Sam had a chair,
Oh! It's broken,
That isn't fair!
She got a new one that's bigger and then,
Sam was so happy and comfy again.

“We love our new chairs and desks!” said Kit and Sam.
“They are very lovely,” said Mum. “Now you both have somewhere to go and do your homework too!” Mum smiled.

Today, we have learnt...
