Let's practise Sam's Sounds and Tricky Words!

Tool Name and Letter Match

Can you match the hammer to the correct nail?
Can you say the name and sound the letter makes?

This week, we meet our next tricky word – here.

Tricky words are words that can't be sounded out. We just have to learn them off by heart!

Tricky Word Snowflakes

Shout out the tricky words on the snowflakes as they fall – watch out for tricky word here!

Remember, tricky words from this level are shown in red in the story and decodable or familiar words are in purple. Digraphs and trigraphs are underlined.

“It’s going dark already!” said Kit one day.
“That’s because it is winter,” said Mum. “The days are shorter in winter.” The family decided to go for a night time walk in the dark woods with Ben.

Everyone wrapped up warm and set off into the dark. “I am glad I brought a torch,” said Sam, as her beam of light showed the right way to go. The fallen leaves from autumn were still on the path, covered in glistening frost.

The path took them this way and that, under an arch and then down a hill. “I don’t think I’ve been here in the woods at night before,” said Kit, “everything looks so different.”

Frosty Leaves

Kit and Sam notice that the frosty leaves have sounds on them.
Can you help them to read the words in the frost?

All of a sudden, Mum stopped, put her finger to her lips and said “Shh!” Everyone stopped, even Ben. Mum gently took the torch from Sam’s hand and shone it to the side of the path.

Sentence Time

What could Mum see in the woods? Read the sentence to find out.

“Wow!” Kit and Sam whispered, as they watched the fox lead her cubs back into their den.

“Foxes are nocturnal,” said Dad quietly. “That means we only usually see them at night.”

“I’m glad we came out in the dark then!” said Kit.
