Dear baby elephant, ← Greeting

→ Introduction I am writing to check on you and also thank you for how much you taught me the day we met. How are you? I hope you are well. I was so glad when you were reunited with your family. Were your family relieved to see you safe and sound? I do hope that they know that there are nice people out there that don't want to hurt you. Do they think all humans are hunters? I know I never want to be a hunter now.

I firstly to say is thank you. Thank you teaching me about what a hunter really is. I thought they were just people who got to see elephants. I didn't realise they wanted to harm elephants. I would never hurt you or any of the creature that live in the bush. Do you and your family see many hunters?

Secondly I wanted to ask how you were feeling after our journey. Do you feel rested and better now? It was a long journey through the deep, dark bush. I thought at times we might never find your family. When you nuzzled me I knew you trusted me so I just couldn't give up!

I hope that you and your family are all safe and well. Is it nice where you live in the bush? I do hope that you have lots of leafy, green trees to eat and lovely pools of clear water to drink. Please let them know that I am going to spread the word about keeping you all safe!

Lots of love, ← signing off the letter
